Notes:

The Base License Fee includes all staff time related to reviewing the application, but does not include staff review time, meetings and field work needed to accommodate the actual work to be performed pursuant to the license. The costs of staff time, field work time, track access permits, inspections, and power downs are in addition to the Base License Fee and will either be included in the total license fee or, if it is difficult to ascertain those costs at the time of licensing, will be invoiced separately. In such a case, the Licensee will be required to enter into a cost recovery agreement to pay for such costs.

Power downs are required whenever construction activity, including equipment, is anticipated within 10 feet of any charged overhead catenary system wire. Power downs are determined at TriMet's sole discretion. In the event that a power down is required, the power down and associated work must be performed during off-revenue hours. Off-revenue hours vary and depend on specific location, but typically are between the hours of 1am-4am
